Dear Scott,

Thanks for your 7/7 and its enclosure. I really cannot take the time you'd like to answer your questions fully.

There is not one but at least three JAMA issues you refer to. I ^{now} have that stuff all in the basement and you know my problem with stairs when I have to use both hands just to use the stairs. Your library should enable you to make copies.

I think the government saw to it that the Connallys did not know the valid reasons for removing those bits of metal and contributed to giving the family offense.

It was not Livingstone personally who took that files, it was the cop working for him who said it was for Livingstone when it wasn't. He stole it for Lifton. It has not been returned. I have heard nothing from Livingstone since he had to turn his ms. in. The legal recourse I have is fictional at my age.

I do not know the status of the legislated new disclosures of records. I've not tried to keep up with it.

I have always believe it would not have been possible to try Oswald. No possibility of getting ^y jury not influenced by the heavy propaganda and no evidence that had not been tainted.

I do not know the status of the new book and I hope you'll not keep asking me, as so many do. When it is out it will be out and there is nothing I can do to speed it up.

If you see anything about the coming books in the papers and magazines you see I'll appreciate copies so I can keep up with them.

Th anks and best wishes,

Henry
